

UPHOLDS RAILROAD RATE LEGISLATION

Decision on Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon and W. Va. Cases Announced

WEAK ROADS EXCEPTED

Approval of State Statutes Does Not Vary from Principles of Minnesota Decision

CLAIMS EXAMINED FULLY

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Without varying a dot from the principles laid down last week in the Minnesota rate cases, the supreme court of the United States today upheld state railroad rate legislation in Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon and West Virginia. This legislation included two cent passenger laws in Missouri and Arkansas and freight rates out of Portland in the Oregon case. The only exception to the sweeping approval of state statutes was in the case of several weaker roads in Missouri.

Justice Hughes Announces Decision. Justice Hughes announced the decision in the rate cases today as he did in the Minnesota cases a week ago. Wherever the point was raised that the state laws interfered with interstate commerce, the justice referred to his Minnesota rate decision. He disappointed any who believed the court might in some way, modify that decision.

"We need not review the arguments addressed to conditions of transportation in Missouri and the relation of intra-state and to interstate rates," he said, "for while the case has its special facts by reason of location of the state and the use of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers as basing points in rate making, the controlling question that has presented with reference to the authority of the state to prescribe reasonable intra-state rates throughout its territory unless limited by the exercise on the part of congress of its constitutional power over interstate commerce and its instruments, is not to be distinguished in any material respect from that which was considered and decided in the Minnesota rate cases."

The Oregon and West Virginia cases were decided in favor of the states in a few words, the only point raised by the railroads being that the laws interfered with interstate commerce.

Examines Claims Fully. Justice Hughes went fully into an examination of claims in the Missouri and Arkansas cases that the property of the railroads devoted to intra-state business would be confiscated.

As a result the state rates will become operative on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe; the Kansas City Southern; the Missouri, Kansas & Texas; the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific (including the St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado); the St. Louis & San Francisco; the St. Louis Southwestern; the Missouri Pacific; the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern; the Wabash; the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago & Alton.

For the present the rates will not become operative on the St. Louis & Hannibal; the Kansas City, Clinton & Springfield; the Chicago Great Western; the Quincy, Omaha & Kansas City and the St. Joseph and Grand Island.

Refuses to Accept Valuation. The court refused to accept the valuation placed upon railroads in Missouri by the state's assessing board as a basis for fixing the "fair value" for figuring whether the rates confiscated property. Justice Hughes took the case of the Burlington and showed that by applying the assessment value (multiplied three times as was done by the federal court in Missouri to the whole system, a result) would maintain $115,000,000 in excess of capitalization of the system. Besides he said there was nothing to show upon what the assessors fixed their valuation or was it demonstrated that the assessors avoided the mistakes criticized in the Minnesota rate decision.

"Manifestly a finding of confiscation could not be based on such a valuation in the absence of clear and convincing proof that the value actually existed and the different items of property were estimated respectively by correct methods and in accordance with proper criteria of value," said Justice Hughes. "This proof was lacking. In the case of the other roads, although the special considerations which have been mentioned with respect to the Burlington property may not be applicable, still we are left in uncertainty as to the correctness of specific valuations which have been made."

Apportionment Disapproved. Apportionment of property values between interstate and intra-state passenger and freight traffic, according to gross revenue, was disapproved for "reasons stated in the Minnesota rate cases."

Coming to an apportionment of expenses, Justice Hughes said the plan adopted by the lower court for applying the revenue basis was open to the same objection as in the Minnesota cases. However, as to the St. Louis & Hannibal and the Kansas

WOMAN KILLS DOCTOR AND COMMITS SUICIDE

MRS. EUGENE WHISNANT FIRES SIX SHOTS AT SAVANNAH PHYSICIAN

Pursues Victim From Private Office to Porch and Back, Continuing to Fire At Him—No Cause Assigned For Tragedy.

SAVANNAH, GA., June 16.—Dr. Guy O. Brinkley, a physician of this city was shot to death in his office here late this afternoon by Mrs. Eugene H. Whisnant, a widow, who, after firing six shots at the physician sent a seventh bullet through her temple, falling lifeless across the body of her victim.

No cause has been assigned for the tragedy.

It is said that when Mrs. Whisnant and a woman companion reached the doctor's office, the former went with Dr. Brinkley into his private office, the other woman remaining in the outer office. A few minutes later the firing began and Dr. Brinkley rushed out followed by Mrs. Whisnant who was steadily firing. Dr. Brinkley called to a maid to summon the police. Mrs. Whisnant is said to have pursued the doctor to the porch and back into the office, continuing to fire at him. Her sixth shot entered his heart, killing him instantly.

The woman then shot herself through the head. Her companion fled.

BAG OF GOLD AWAITS HEIRS OF BERNHART ESTATE

Any Heirs Who May Be Found Will Receive $10,000 in Gold Nuggets and Dust From Administrator.

Hutchinson, Kan., June 16.—A bag of gold nuggets and gold dust in value estimated at $10,000 awaits any heirs who may be found to the estate of Mrs. Anne Bernhart, who died recently in Davenport, Iowa, according to the announcement today of G. M. Duckworth, administrator of the Bernhart estate.

Several years ago Mrs. Bernhart was adjudged of unsound mind. Duckworth was named her guardian. The cottage here where she lived alone was closed and she went to an asylum. Upon her death Duckworth thoroughly searched her cottage. The nuggets and dust in small bags were found secreted in all parts of the dwelling.

ACTRESS DIES SUDDENLY.

New York, June 16.—It was announced this afternoon that Della Fox, famous as a vocalist and musical comedy actress, died suddenly of acute indigestion in a New York sanitarium last night. The body will be taken to St. Louis for burial.

In private life Miss Fox was Mrs. J. D. Levy. She was born in St. Louis in 1871 and made her first appearance on the stage in that city in "H. M. S. Pinafore" in 1879.

MAQUON FARMER SUICIDES.

Galesburg, Ill., June 16.—Armed with three implements of suicide—a piece of clothes line, a hammer and razor—George Michael Smith, 80, left his farm house near Maquon last night and was found dead today. His body slashed with razor, his head showing marks of being struck with the hammer and the clothes line fastened about his neck, he was hanging from a peach tree in the orchard of his daughter's farm near Maquon. Sickness made him despondent.

Gity, Clinton & Springfield, he said the experts of both the state and the railroads united in stating no basis could be found upon which the proposed rates would yield an adequate return. As to the Chicago Great Western, he said, the errors of valuation and apportionment were not decided. Among these were the cases of Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the officers of the American Federation of Labor, who are asking for a review of the decision of the district courts holding them in contempt for alleged violation of an injunction in the Bucks Stove & Range company case. Execution of the state sentences thus will be delayed until, at least fall. Gompers who was sentenced to a month in jail has been very ill for several months.

Will Have to Refund Money.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 16.—The thirteen main branch railroads of Missouri will have to refund the excess freight and passenger rates charged in defiance of the two-cent passenger fare law and the maximum freight rate act of 1907 in every instance where parties have the proof of the overcharge, declared Governor Elliott Major, when informed tonight of the decision of the United States supreme court upholding the laws. It was Governor Major, then attorney general, who presented the case to the supreme court.

GOV. DUNNE VETOES KLEEMAN MEASURE

Explains Action In Veto Message of Uncertain Expense Attending Bill

COST NOT ESTIMATED

Lake Calumet Harbor Bill Would Cost $3,000,000 For Excavation and River Connections

CHICAGO OFFICIALS PROTEST

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 16.—Governor Dunne vetoed the Kleeman Lake Calumet harbor bill late this afternoon. His veto message, addressed to the general assembly, was read in the house at the five o'clock session. Governor Dunne says in his veto, among other things:

"In view of the enormous powers so given I deem it unwise to approve this bill until a concrete scheme is formulated, the cost of same to be approximately ascertained so that the tax payers of the district might know what their burdens in the future would be."

The governor has received estimates that the cost of excavating the lake and the necessary connections with Calumet river and docking with timbers would alone cost $3,000,000. In addition would come the riparian rights, the cost of which has not been estimated. He thinks the owners of surrounding properties should make some written agreement as to their rights before work on the proposed harbor is undertaken. Besides there is no concrete scheme that would show even approximately the cost of the enterprise. The governor reviews the provisions of the bill and says:

"The rights given to the sanitary district for reaching in their nature and if this bill were permitted to become a law an enormous burden might be imposed upon the tax payers of the sanitary district of Chicago."

Gorman Apologizes.

Representative Thomas N. Gorman, of Peoria, who last Friday afternoon assaulted Representative George H. Wilson of Quincy, the dry leader, on the floor of the house of representatives offered an apology to the house and also to Mr. Wilson at the afternoon session today.

Immediately following the call to order today, Speaker McKinley recognized the Peoria member. Mr. Gorman's apology, which probably closes the incident, was as follows:

"I want at this time to offer my apology for my conduct last week. No one regrets it more than I do. I don't think there's anything more that could be said."

Oppose Public Utilities Bill.

Officials of the city of Chicago tonight voiced their opposition to the public utility bill in the form in which it passed the house. At a meeting of the senate committee on public utilities, Mayors Harrison and several Chicago aldermen expressed their sentiment on the subject, all advocating the restoration of article six of the original bill which gave to the people of Chicago the right to control their own utilities.

Forty-five aldermen, accompanied Mayor Harrison to Springfield along with William H. Sexton, corporation counsel, N. T. Piotrowski, city attorney and others.

Before starting for Springfield a special meeting of the city council of Chicago was held at which a resolution was adopted declaring it to be the sense of the council that the city be given authority to control her own public service corporations. Speeches made before the senate committee were in line with this declaration.

Mayor Harrison in answering a number of questions regarding his personal views on the subject declared that he favored giving home rule to every city of the state that desired it, and permit every city that desires to go under the state commission to do so.

Governor Dunne was the last speaker of the evening. He said he would like to take under the jurisdiction of the state commission only cities of less than twenty thousand population. However, he would take the bill including cities of 25,000 or of 30,000 but he realized that the sentiment of the people of Chicago was in favor of that city controlling its own utilities.

When Governor Dunne concluded the committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

Delay Corrupt Practice Act.

The administration's corrupt practice act struck a rock in the house tonight when it was called up on second reading.

At one time Speaker McKinley ordered the bill advanced to third reading. Later a motion by Browne prevailed, postponing further action until tomorrow. If the postponement at this late date does not defeat the bill, it at least seriously endangers its passage. The committee bill does not apply to candidates

BEET SUGAR MAGNATE AN ENTERTAINING WITNESS

HENRY T. OXNARD TESTIFIES BEFORE LOBBY INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

Declares New York Bankers, Who Helped Organize the Beet Sugar Company Put in $15,000,000 Water in a $10,000,000 Corporation.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Henry T. Oxnard, known as the "father of the beet industry," and the vice president of the American Beet Sugar company, was the principal witness today before the senate lobby investigating committee. Mr. Oxnard was on the stand for several hours and proved an entertaining witness. He told the committee how New York bankers who helped to organize the beet sugar company insisted upon putting in about $15,000,000 water in a $10,000,000 corporation. How he and his brothers had made a million by the sale of their part of the watered stock and gave warning that the Underwood bill with its free sugar provision would result, in his opinion, in the formation of a new "sugar trust" which would not violate the anti-trust law.

The committee took Mr. Oxnard over most of the ground that other anti-free sugar witnesses have covered. He told them he received $10,000 a year, but it was not for legislative work. The questioners learned that he had been fighting reductions in sugar for many years.

The committee got a surprise today when A. M. More, editor of Fargo, N. D. Courier-News, and A. M. Baker, general manager of that paper, gave their testimony about an editorial recently printed in the News which Senator Gronna thought was a reflection upon him and which led to their being subpoenaed. Both men made the long trip to Washington in answer to the senate summons and then declared under oath that they knew nothing of the editorial until they saw it in print. It was written by James A. Metcalf of Gendive, Mont., temporarily employed, while Baker was away from Fargo. Both More and Baker said that they had no reason to doubt that Senator Gronna's political and private integrity and honesty and More said that a retraction might be printed. Metcalf had written the editorial, they thought, merely in a flimsy way.

FILE QUO WARRANTO PROCEEDINGS AGAINST ELEVATED R. R. COMPANIES

Charge Is Made That the Companies Have Violated Charter Powers and Have Issued Watered Stock.

Chicago, June 16.—Another move in the city's fight to obtain through elevated railroad routes and universal transfers was made today when Attorney Hoyne filed quo warranto proceedings against the Metropolitan West Side elevated railroad, the South Side elevated road and the Union Elevated railroad companies. In each suit the charge is made that each company has violated its charter power and state constitution by issuing watered stock.

The amount of watered stock in the Metropolitan company is placed at $14,000,000, in the Union Elevated at $8,000,000 and in the South Side company at $8,000,000.

Quo warranto proceedings now are pending against the Northwestern Elevated company and the Union Loop company on the grounds that they have failed to comply with the state railroad act under which they were organized.

A similar limit is fixed for the election, providing in effect that a candidate may spend at the primary at election, one-half of the salary of the office.

PUBLIC WILL DECIDE CURRENCY BILL'S FATE

Administration to Launch Bill in House and Senate Before Friday

AWAIT PUBLIC OPINION

Should the Bill Be Demanded By the Country at Large the Measure Will Be Pushed

WILSON'S MESSAGE TODAY

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Public opinion, the sovereign voice in law-making, is to decide whether there shall be currency legislation during the present session of congress.

This was the view which Representative Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader in the house, took after a conference with President Wilson at the white house late today.

In the face of conflicting expressions from prominent Democrats in congress as to the necessity for currency reform during the present session, it is the avowed purpose of the administration to launch a currency bill in the house and senate before Friday of this week which will be accompanied or followed by the president's message describing what he believes to be the necessity for banking reform.

Await Public Sentiment.

Then according to Mr. Underwood the plan of the house will be to rest on its oars, thoroughly discuss the new banking proposals and await the expression of the newspapers of the country and the opinion of the bankers and business men generally as to the merits of the Democratic proposals. Should the discussion of the bill in congress be backed up by an insistent demand from the country at large for an immediate revision of the currency system, it is the belief of the administration that senators and congressmen will yield their pleas of personal discomfort in the approaching hot weather.

The president believes strongly that the country will back him up in his view that the currency system ought to be reformed so as to alleviate any stringency that might follow the passage of the tariff bill. Representative Underwood, after his conference with the president, said that while the Democratic party had made up its mind what ought to be done on the tariff and currency reform was practically a new question to it and it would be impossible to predict how long the house would take for a discussion of the bill. It would take some time, he added, for members to hear from their home communities. He would not venture a guess as to whether approval or disapproval of the bill could be reached in a month or longer, but the position that the currency situation could only be solved by the attitude which the nation revealed when the bill was debated thoroughly.

Have Finished Bill.

Meantime Secretary McAdoo, Chairman Owen and Glass of the senate and house banking and currency committees today finished the bill that represents the administration's view. Representative Glass was of the opinion that it will not be presented until Friday.

There has been no decision as to whether the president will read his message to congress in advance of the introduction of the bill or afterward, but this point will be decided tomorrow in conferences which the president will have with Representative Glass and Owen. The bill in its present form embraces a system of regional reserve associations with local governing boards, all under control of a federal reserve board of nine members at Washington.

Elasticity of the currency is to be secured through the issuance of United States notes to these reserve associations and by them to the local banks, upon adequate security, including commercial paper of a qualified class. The local banks making up each reserve association will be required to keep a specific amount of their reserves in the association vaults. No present issues of treasury notes or gold or silver certificates are to be disturbed by the new currency, but the bill would require the gradual retirement of all national bank notes, in a maximum period of twenty years. The new currency system would become operative July 1, 1914.

The president's message will be read to the cabinet tomorrow.

MINERS REPORT NEW STRIKE CALLED

UNION IS UNABLE TO CONTROL THE DISSATISFIED MEN

Committee of Miners Bearing Instructions of a Mass Meeting Urges Union Officials to Call a General Strike.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 16.—"With the renewal of industrial war in the Paint and Cabin Creek mine districts universally reported, the senate mine strike committee today continued its examination of witnesses. During the day miners, detectives and agents of the mine operators came down from the strike region with tales of a new strike called and throwing the district into disorder.

The local union of the United Mine Workers of America No. 17 has not called a new strike on Paint and Cabin Creeks. Thomas Hargrett, a member of the International Miners' board, declared tonight, "but we cannot be sure of the men who are working up in the field," he said. "The operators have not lived up to the agreement under which the men went back to work and which was drawn by Governor Hatfield. We have tried to prevent further strike, but I am convinced that the miners up there have decided not to continue to work under the conditions which prevail there now. Meetings were held in the creeks yesterday and the men expressed dissatisfaction with conditions. They decided to strike and the union cannot control them."

Urge General Strike.

A committee of miners from the Cabin Creek section came to Charleston today to urge the United Mine workers' officials to call a general strike. They bore the instructions of a mass meeting held in the hills yesterday.

The testimony presented to the senate committee was largely routine and culminative. Thomas L. Feltz, vice-president of the Baldwin-Feltz Detective agency, who supplied the mine guards for the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek operators during the strike, was the principal witness.

Mr. Feltz told the committee that when the trouble was at its height his concern had about 150 armed men on Cabin Creek and about thirty-five men on Paint Creek. He also said that his company had from six to ten men working in the strike district as secret service operatives. These men, he said, furnished information to the operators and his agency.

He admitted his men made a list of those men who were organizers for the United Mine Workers and those men who were active in the Union for the use of the operators and that was one of the objects of his organization which employed in the Cabin Creek district and to prevent the organization of branches of the United Mine Workers.

Senator Kenyon ascertained from Mr. Feltz that men were employed to join the unions to find out what was going on, in order to carry out the purposes of preventing union organization.

Scores of witnesses called by the miners today testified that the principal trouble in the strike district, was caused by the conduct of the guards.

PRISONERS SHOW DEVOTION TO WARDEN.

Joliet, Ill., June 16.—Not one of the 1,700 convicts at the state penitentiary here has availed himself of the daily hour of recreation since the death of Deputy Warden Henry Sims last Saturday. All of the convicts attended religious services yesterday and united in singing "Farewell," a song composed by one of the convicts in memory of Mr. Sims. The devotion of the prisoners to Mr. Sims is the more remarkable in that he was the disciplinarian of the institution.

MAY ELIMINATE COUNTERVAILING TAX

Finance Committee Will Reconsider Action Approving Free Live Stock

TO UNRESTRICT FREE LIST

Majority Now Propose to Place Wheat and Live Stock on Free List Unrestricted

NO REASON GIVEN FOR CHANGE

WASHINGTON, JUNE 16.—The much mooted agricultural schedule of the Underwood tariff bill was suddenly upset again by the majority members of the senate finance committee late today when a motion was made to reconsider action taken earlier in the day approving the free listing of livestock and wheat subject to a countervailing duty.

The proposal now is to strike out the provision for a countervailing duty and leave cattle, sheep, hogs and wheat on the free list unrestricted. Members of the committee said tonight that this probably would be done by the majority. No reason for the change was announced. For weeks the equalization of the agricultural raw products and finished products which were differentiated in the Underwood bill has been a problem for the Democratic senators in which President Wilson has taken an active interest.

The house puts meats and flour on the free list, leaving livestock and grains dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem and 10c a bushel respectively.

The senate finance sub-committee soon after receiving the schedule agreed to equalize the rates and eventually voted to make the raw materials and the finished products all dutiable. No sooner had this conclusion been reached than Senator Simmons and other Democratic declared that the problem would not be settled rightly if left that way. They were of the opinion that all products which enter into the cost of living should go into the free list and President Wilson agreed with them.

Later Adopted Duty Clause.

Senator Simmons communicated this information to the sub-committee and it reconsidered its action, placing all these products on the free list. Later it was announced that the committee would adopt a countervailing duty clause which would make the products free only from countries which did make them dutiable from this country. This would operate against the free entry of livestock from such countries as Canada and the Argentine.

The committee today further enlarged the free list by voting to take flax, hemp and ramie from the dutiable list. The Underwood bill rates on flax were from one to one and one-half cents per pound and on hemp and ramie from one-half to one cent per pound according to grade. It was argued that these products should clash whether produced in the farm and then by free listing them the cost of living might be beneficially affected. Rates on finished products from these materials were materially reduced.

It also was decided not to consider the amendment proposed by Senator Hitchcock which would provide a graduated revenue tax on the output of tobacco. This amendment followed suggestions made by Attorney General McKeeney, but which the administration did not see to endorse at this time.

Bananas which never have been subject to a tariff tax were put on the dutiable list by action of the committee. To encourage American growers was given as the reason.

Despite many protests against the cuts in the citrus fruit rates made in the house bill, the senate committee left the schedule as it was. No change was made in the liquor schedule but it was left open for amendment. Senator Pomrence having asked to be heard tomorrow on the matter.

TELLS OF VISIT TO THE STATE SCHOOL FOR DEAF

Fred J. Kern, President of Board of Administration Gives His Impressions in His Own Paper.

At the recent commencement exercises of the Illinois School for the Deaf, Fred J. Kern, president of the state board of administration, made an impromptu address to the students. In a recent issue of the Belleville News-Democrat, Mr. Kern who owns and edits that paper has the following account of his visit and address here.

"Last Tuesday Fred J. Kern, president of the state board of administration, delivered an address under peculiar circumstances. On invitation of the Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville, extended through its superintendent, Dr. Charles P. Gillett, Mr. Kern attended the commencement exercises at the school for the deaf.

"In the course of the exercises Mr. Kern was asked to address the school, all of the teachers and pupils, besides some visitors being assembled in the chapel of the institution. Mr. Kern stood on the center of the stage speaking to a large audience which could not hear a word he uttered. The difficulty was remedied by Superintendent Gillett taking a place beside Mr. Kern and interpreting the words of the impromptu speaker to the audience in sign language as fast as he spoke them. Mr. Kern spoke as fast as his usual custom.

"The audience was appreciative and attentive and frequently punctuated Mr. Kern's address with hearty applause, consisting in spirited clapping of the hands and approving nods and smiles.

Mr. Kern said in part: "I am very glad indeed to be the guest of this magnificent institution on the occasion of this beautiful commencement day.

"I am here on invitation of your able and courteous and genial superintendent, Dr. C. P. Gillett and as the head and representative of the state board of administration, as its representative and spokesman.

"I am thus truly honored and shall therefore take great pleasure in recording this particular one, as one of the most happy days of my life.

"I bring greetings to you and offer my sincere congratulations on the splendid institution which the state of Illinois has dedicated to your service in this good cause.

"The grounds, the buildings, the trees, the flowers, all of your environments are attractive and beautiful beyond my humble powers of adequate description.

"Your superintendent, your teachers and all of their assistants are capable, conscientious, and yet noblehearted, generous and really good people.

"Let us look upon the sunny side of things. Get that habit. It is a good habit to get. Everybody hates a groaner. The truth about the matter is that the world is growing better every day. There is more genuine Christianity in the world than there ever was before. We build more hospitals, more schools, more churches, more asylums than were ever built before. We are banishing cruelty, brutality and barbarism, and we are substituting mercy, charity, benevolence and altruism. We have more liberty and less hunger, and we are headed for the era of justice and equality.

"We are going to use government for the benefit of the toiling masses, instead of for their oppression and exploitation, and instead of for the enrichment of the favored privileged, little few, who sow not yet they reap.

"I sympathize with you in your affliction. The use of one of the five senses has been denied to you. Some of you were handicapped from birth, others were stricken by disease which left this dreadful effect behind. The world of sound is closed and silenced for you. You cannot hear your mother's voice, your father's admonitions, the hum and buzz and whirl of magic machinery, the songs of birds, the laughter of children, the music of the organ and the choir and the band, the roar of thunder, nor the gentle murmur of brooks and rivers and of the great majestic sea.

"Here is where our great and mighty state steps in to perform a duty which civilization demands of it. It offers to remove your handicap with education. It gives you a chance to learn a trade. It employs teachers to facilitate the process of the mental unfolding, and others to teach and train the eye and hand and to develop skill which will overshadow natural defect and render you all independent, self-supporting, self-respecting and free.

"It is a great work which the state is doing in this respect. It substitutes happiness for misery, joy for despondency, abundance and plenty for penury and want. It drives the phantom of fear out of many a despairing heart, cures the aches and pains of woe, dispels the clouds of care and aries the tears of hopelessness and agony away. God bless Illinois! It might have been worse. It would have been worse had the state not interposed its beneficent and generous hand.

"This state leads all the others in its charitable and eleemosynary institutions. It takes better care of its dependent wards than any other state in the Union, and why shouldn't it? It is the richest state in the federal constellation. It is the great prairie state, with its rich farms, its inexhaustible coal supply, its great work-shops, its network of railroads, its vast commerce.

"Its history is one grand epic poem, since Marquette and LaSalle and Father Hennepin and DeSoto first trod its soil, and its antiquities prove that vanished races flourished here ten thousand years ago.

"Illinois gave to the nation the men who preserved the Union in the sixties and kept Old Glory floating in the breeze.

"A word to the graduates. You have completed your course in this wonderful school. Accept my hearty congratulations upon the triumph which you have achieved. I want you to feel proud when the worthy superintendent will hand you your diplomas. Let your chests expand just a little more and be not afraid. Go forth and face the world with confidence and resolution. Some of the best people I ever knew have been bereft of the sense of hearing. They support themselves and are respected in the community in which they live. They are prosperous in spite of their handicap. They are good citizens. They earn their own living by honest toil, owe no man a dollar, and ask odds from no one. They enjoy my admiration and hold my highest esteem. I revere them and I love them with all of my heart.

"You will soon engage in the struggle for existence. I hope that your fondest dreams may be realized, that you will never be disillusioned of the visions formed here and nursed from childhood up. Build up noble characters. Be the architects of your own fortunes and your own careers. Be robust, sturdy, aggressive, progressive and resolute men and women. No one is your superior. You are the equal of the best of them. Neither wealth nor show, nor glamor, makes the man nor the woman. Character makes the man and the woman, character alone.

"Believe me that you will out-run many in the race for laurels who are in full possession of their five senses and you would win if some of these had six senses and then some.

"Have confidence in yourselves. Help to make the world better and the country greater. Be useful, be honest, be just, be industrious, be patriotic, and remember all of the lessons of Christianity, of altruism and unselfishness which have been here inculcated into your young and plastic souls.

"My best wishes are with you. May success and happiness and the highest honors be with you to the end. I thank you and bid you farewell."

CHILDREN'S DAY AT WESTMINSTER

Children's day at Westminster was appropriately observed Sunday morning. The program has been printed before but as there were a number of changes it is given below again. A number not on the program came at the conclusion when the Sunday school presented Supt. J. H. Rayhill with a handsome Bible. Mr. Rayhill has been the faithful superintendent of the school for several years past and is giving up the work because of his removal to Springfield.

EBENEZER CHURCH
REDEDICATED SUNDAYEXERCISES OF GREAT INTEREST

Rev. W. S. Phillips Made Principal Address—Sermons by Dr. F. A. McCarty and Rev. C. F. Baker
Special Music a Feature—Epworth League Officers Installed.

Sunday, June 15, will be long remembered as a red letter day by the people of the Ebenezer neighborhood on account of the exercises in connection with the re-opening of this historic church after extensive improvements had been completed.

It will be remembered that plans were made and the funds secured for this work under the pastorate and leadership of Rev. William S. Phillips, but the work was done during the incumbency of Rev. E. B. Houck. A basement was constructed under the whole building and a new entrance made, cement walks built and everything completed to make this church a social center in the neighborhood.

Special Musical Program.

The program was opened at 10:45 with a hymn by the congregation. The special music was arranged by Mrs. Fletcher Blackburn. The singers who took part on the program were Mrs. J. E. Martin, Mrs. Helen Masters Ford, of Greenfield, Miss Ella Blackburn, Charles A. Rowe, Rev. W. S. Phillips, T. H. Rapp and a ladies quartet composed of Mrs. J. E. Martin, Miss Grace Patterson, Miss Ethel Masters, Mrs. James Martin.

Rev. William S. Phillips was chosen to preach the re-opening sermon. The text was taken from the eighth psalm, "What is Man." Mr. Phillips began with a reference to the splendid work which had been done and said that Edmund Blackburn first suggested the idea of improving and modernizing the church building to meet the latest requirements for social service. A crowded house listened with apt attention to the speaker as he proceeded to unfold his subject.

The Value of a Man.

Mr. Phillips said in part: "Much depends upon the viewpoint from which man is observed. Compared with the mighty objects in nature man is an insignificant atom compared with the antiquity of the earth man is insignificant in duration. The elephant has greater strength than man and horse can outstrip him for speed. To man was given dominion over the forces of nature and he has by his discoveries been gradually coming into his dominion."

The earth was made for man and we are compelled to believe that all the worlds were made at least in part for his use. Man is great in his mental endowments. He chains the waterfall and harnesses the lightning to do his bidding. Man is great, not only in his power of thought, by which he penetrates the secrets of nature, but by his thinking he grasps the eternal truths of God. Again man is great in his princely gift of language by which to express his thoughts. Many is worth saving. In the deer sounds of the eternal we find that God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whoever believeth on him might not perish, but have everlasting life, and in the fullness of time Christ came into the world to reveal the Father's love to give himself a ransom for many.

Service of Re-dedication.

"Jesus calls o'er the tumult to his service. He calls and men hear, his voice forsake sin. He calls and men forsake all and follow Him to become fishers of men." We have come here to re-dedicate this church to God's service for the uplift of humanity. In this dedication let us dedicate our lives to the cause of righteousness to do the work which the Master calls us to do."

It was a splendid sermon and the audience made up largely of the long time friends of Rev. Mr. Phillips, were thoroughly interested in the message.

At the close of the service a basket dinner was served and the members of the church served at least two hundred of their friends.

Afternoon Service.

In the afternoon another large audience gathered and the sermon was preached by Dr. F. A. McCarty, district superintendent. Dr. McCarty is familiar with the history of Ebenezer church and he preached a strong sermon, one very appropriate to the occasion.

Evening Service.

At the evening service, Rev. C. F. Baker, a former pastor now located at Charleston as a district superintendent, was heard with great interest. He prefaced his sermon with some remarks about the rural church problem and the importance of making the church the social center. His text was Acts 3:6 and he emphasized the great value of character over mere worldly goods and commented the great work that is entrusted to ministers. Rev. Mr. Baker is one of the able ministers of the conference and his sermon was given earnest attention. This service brought to a close the important program of the day.

Epworth League Officers Installed.

Sunday night at 7 o'clock the Epworth league officers at Ebenezer church were installed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. E. B. Houck. The Rev. W. S. Phillips made a brief but very helpful address after the installation. Rev. Mr. Phillips took for his subject "Cross Bearing," and pointed out some of the true and vital lessons contained in the Epworth league motto. In the course of his remarks, he said he wished to form an organization with the motto, "Give flowers to the living." He found fault with the common human way of not expressing appreciation until the one deserving of it shall have passed beyond. All present joined him in the sentiment that the living are more deserving than the dead of flowers and praise, ex-

MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

Odd Fellow Lodges of City Honor

Memory of the Dead.
The annual memorial exercises of the two I. O. O. F. lodges of the city, Illini No. 4 and Urania—No. 243, were held Sunday morning at the Central Christian church, with sermon by the pastor, Rev. Clyde Darsie. The members gathered at the lodge rooms and marched in a body to the church, where they occupied special reserved seats. The members of the Rebekah lodge also attended in a body. The program included two solos, "Ava Maria," by Grace DeCamp, with violin obligato by Miss Alma Forsythe, and "The Lord is My Shepherd (Liddle), by Frank W. Phillips. The anthem, "Ye That Stand in the House of the Lord," was sung by the chorus and the male quartet of the church, composed of Messrs. Campbell, Harney, Proffitt and Mathis, gave a selection. Mrs. E. W. Fell accompanied the soloists.

Rev. Mr. Darsie preached a strong sermon from the text Luke 10:27, "Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself." The pastor showed the desire of men to form fraternities and of the great good which came out of such organizations. He pointed out the fact that unless the spirit of Christ was back of every movement of men their efforts to accomplish the noblest things in life would not amount to much. Men should not depend upon the lodge to save them for an endless life, for the lodge would never supersede the mission of the Church of Jesus Christ. Among the members who have passed away during the past year are Joseph Tomlinson, W. E. Baker, James W. York and J. Harvey Long.

PECULIAR HORSES.

They Have Little Hair and Eat Butter and Sugar With Flour.

The greatest peculiarity of the Turkoman breed of horses is their hairlessness. They have naturally very little mane, and what they have is always carefully cut off. Their skin is very soft and thin. Colonel Stewart in "Through Persia in Disguise" tells of the great care taken of these animals.

They are never stabled, but picketed in the open. They are, however, warmly clothed. First the Turkoman puts over his animal a thick felt body covering of the size that an English horse wears. Over this he fastens an immense piece of felt that covers the horse's ears and his whole body down to his hocks. This clothing he keeps in place with a long roller, which is passed three times round the horse's body.

The Turkomans feed their horses when in camp on barley or chopped straw and give them flour and sheep's tail fat or clarified butter when they are going to call on them for great exertion. I myself in India have often given my horses a pound each of flour and coarse sugar and half a pound of clarified butter made into balls when I have ridden them far and wanted them to go on again. The horse easily digests this ration, and he is ready to start sooner than if a feed of corn is given him. It is also supposed to give great strength.

Turkomans give their horses almost anything they eat themselves. Although hardy in respect of food, the horses require a good deal of care as to clothing, for fine coats and delicate skins make them very susceptible to colds.

LEADERS OF MEN.

It is by Success That They Attain Prestige and Power.

As soon as a certain number of living beings are gathered together, whether they be animals or men, they place themselves instinctively under the authority of a chief.

As enthusiasm becomes inflamed it happens most often that the then leader is he who started as one of the led.

He has himself been hypnotized by the idea whose apostle he has since become. It has taken possession of him to such a degree that everything outside it vanishes, and every contrary opinion appears to him an error or a superstition. In time by affirmation, repetition and contagion great power is given to his ideas, and he acquires that mysterious force known as prestige. Every successful man, every idea that forces itself into recognition, ceases ipso facto to be called in question.

The proof that success is one of the principal stepping stones to prestige is that the disappearance of one is almost always followed by the disappearance of the other. The hero whom the crowd acclaimed yesterday is in suit today should be overtaken by failure. The reaction indeed will be the stronger in proportion as the prestige has been great.—Le Bon in "The Crowd."

Verdi as a Politician.

The name of Verdi, we are told, was a political and patriotic symbol. He belonged to the Italian Nationalist party, and his name was scribbled on the walls of Italian towns which were under Austrian rule. This honor, however, as is carefully explained, was not paid to Verdi himself, as his name happened by accident to be formed by the initial letters of "Victor Emmanuel Roi d'Italie," with which inscription Italian patriots often cover their walls. Verdi was a politician. He was elected deputy, and subsequently Emmanuel made him a senator. The story is told that the maestro was in the habit of orchestrating the sittings of the chamber of deputies and noting the tone of the various speakers, so that he could go up to each of them in the lobby and tell him that his speech was in such and such a key.—Westminster Gazette.

A Generous Rebuke.

Nicholas Wain, one of the great men of the time described in "The Colonial Homes of Philadelphia and Its Neighborhood," had a wit as whimsical as Lamb's, although there was less of it. Annoyed by repeated depredations upon his woodpile, he bought a cart load of wood and sent it to the offender.

"Friend," was the courteous explanation that accompanied the wood, "I was afraid this would hurt thyself falling off my woodpile."—Youth's Companion.

Uses of Enthusiasm.

"I didn't know you were an especial admirer of the man who got elected."

"I'm not," replied the practical politician.

"Then why so much enthusiasm?"

"It's the only way I can suggest to my constituents that maybe I have some influence with him."—Washington Star.

And He Was Cruel to Her.

Lawyer—I think I can get you a divorce, madam, for cruel and inhuman treatment, but do you think your husband will fight the suit? Woman—Fight! Why, the little shrimp doesn't even come into a room where I am!—Truth Seeker.

A Trying Role.

"Remember, Arthur, you are the son of a gentleman. Try to behave like one for just one day."

"All right, mother, but it will spoil the whole day for me."—Life.

Much talent is often lost for want of a little courage.—George Eliot.

WELL TEST LIKELY TO BE

GIVEN AT EARLY DATE

Light Company Has Promised a Satisfactory Rate—May Abolish Office of Superintendent of Streets.

The city council held a brief session Monday morning. On account of the painting and papering being done in the council chamber it was necessary to meet in the office of R. L. Pyatt, city clerk. The only thing about the meeting out of the ordinary was the presentation by Commissioner Knollenberg of a resolution to abolish the office of superintendent of streets and require the commissioner of streets to do that work. On suggestion of Mayor Davis the question was continued until the next session for discussion and action. The council was called to order at 10 o'clock and the roll call showed that all members were present.

Mayor Davis mentioned that he had received a communication from Peoria stating that representatives of the Chamber of Commerce of that city will visit Jacksonville next Wednesday. The visitors had indicated that they wanted no special entertainment of any kind, but would simply like the opportunity of seeing Jacksonville and of meeting informally with business men. Mayor Davis thought that it might be well to arrange in connection with the Chamber of Commerce to give the visitors an auto ride about Jacksonville and on motion of Commissioner Newman he named a committee of two for this work. Commissioners Newman and Knollenberg will represent the council in this matter.

Commissioner Brennan said that the work of repairing the Smith-Vaile pump at the pumping station had been completed and that the pump is now in order. Mr. Brennan said that with J. P. Doan and Mr. Miser he had recently visited the Widenham & Daub wells and had looked over the equipment. Mr. Miser had agreed to take up with the Hoe company the matter of a better rate for pumping from the wells and was to have had a figure submitted by the time of the Monday council meeting.

Mayor Davis said he had been in Peoria Thursday on some private business and that while there he by chance met Mr. Miser. He said the latter was expecting to be able to make a very favorable rate for electricity for a thirty day test of the wells, although the authority of Mr. Chubbuck had not been asked or secured.

Bids had been asked for a new pump for the pumping station and three had been submitted by the Smith-Vaile, Worthington and Fairbank companies. In view of the possibilities of the test of the Widenham & Daub wells it was determined not to open the steam pump bids until a later date and the representatives of the companies were allowed to withdraw their bids. If the Light company makes a rate by which pumping can be economically done by electricity, then it is likely that an electric instead of a steam pump would be installed.

Mayor Davis asked if the committee appointed to investigate the proposed plan of a rest room in Central park was ready to report and Commissioner Newman asked for more time.

Commissioner Newman introduced an amendment to the sidewalk ordinance, providing that four inches of boiler cinders may be used instead of concrete. It carried an emergency clause and was passed, Commissioner Knollenberg voting against it. The original ordinance was passed Commissioner Brennan and Knollenberg voting no. Commissioner Knollenberg was opposed to the change because he thought it easy to drift from boiler cinders to ashes and material even poorer and that the results would be bad. Mayor Davis was of the opinion that the change would not result in a detriment to conditions and as the property owners pay all of the cost of sidewalks he thought the risk was theirs.

Commissioner Knollenberg said that residents in the vicinity of Duncan Park wanted a well there and he was given authority to have one dug.

When Commissioner Knollenberg introduced a resolution providing for the abolishment of the office of street commissioner the duties of the position to devolve upon the Commissioner of streets, he met with a second by Commissioner Brennan. Mayor Davis thought it would be just as well to defer action until the regular session next week and this was done. The effect of the resolution would be to abolish the office now held by Ol Spaulding and have the duties of the position performed by Commissioner Newman.

Thomas Scott, proprietor of the Hippodrome, was given authority to present a Biblical picture at the Hippodrome next Saturday night with the understanding that there will be no charge for admission and no collection will be taken. It is to be an absolutely free entertainment and the pictures of a religious character.

The council then adjourned.

Pimples Should Be Watched

May be Means of Absorbing Disease
Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

Make Your Blood Pure and Immune
With S. S. S.

The world renowned laboratory of the Swift Specific Company has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may now be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutrients. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. These facts are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. EAGLES EASILY DEFEAT NEW BERLIN IN GAME SUNDAY

Errors Count Heavily Against New Berlin Players—Wheeler Pitches Good Game.

The baseball team of the local Aerie of Eagles celebrated their first appearance in their new uniforms Sunday by winning an overwhelming victory over the New Berlin team, at that place. Wheeler pitched a good game and was off color only three innings, in which the opponents scored their five runs. Errors on the part of the New Berlin men figured in the scoring and the Jacksonville team made ten runs from as many hits. The hitting of Wall was a feature of the game, when with two down and the bases full he drove the ball into deep center for two bases, clearing the sacks. Next Sunday the Eagles will play at Ashland. AT BROOKLYN CHURCH.
Children's day was very fittingly observed by the Sunday school Sunday night. The house was packed, the little folks did splendidly, the music was supported by a large chorus choir, and was up to the Brooklyn standard. One of the extras was the very excellent reading given by Miss Lulu Mawson. The story "Elizabeth" was pathetic in the extreme, and Miss Mawson held the rapt attention of the large body of children through her entire performance. The selection could not have been more appropriate. Communion was observed Sunday morning. Special music numbers were provided by the chorus, and the trio and duet were unusually good. Two men were welcomed into church fellowship Sunday night several children were christened.

Members - City of Fochow Greatly Crowded - Country Has Little Transportation Facilities.

The mission sustains a reading room in the heart of the city and there tries to exert a good influence over many who would not be reached by other means. The best of books and papers are kept there and a great many avail themselves of the privileges thus offered.

There is a flourishing Y. M. C. A.
and the good it is doing is great. It has a well appointed building and while cramped for funds, is able to accomplish much for the welfare of the young men gathered in. It has a large membership and on its list are several prominent young men of good position and they are exerting an excellent influence all about them.

As we passed along the street one day we saw a boy with a number of chickens, which he was stuffing forcibly with a mixture of feed and sand, to make them fatten faster and weigh more. The tricks the heathen Chinese can't play are hardly worth knowing.

In the market places we saw lots of all kinds of fish and several tubs with water in them and filled with live squirming eels, some not more than six inches long, and they were toothsome delicacies to the natives.

People don't have much in the way of lavatories, but place a wash tub
at the street doorway and perform their ablutions in it. Mothers strip their children and wash away remains of the presence of the passing throng.

One day we went shopping in a street where there were many curios, but we had Mr. Christian along and he showed us how the thing was done, and it was amusing indeed. We enter a shop which has an article we want.

"What is the price of that?"
"Four dollars."

"I will give you one."

Disdainful refusal.

"What will you give?"

"No more than a dollar."

"Can't take that; will take two."

"I will give you no more than one."

"Can't take less than two."

We go away and pass on to the next place and several more and finally walk back to the first place and the man calls us in.

"I will take a dollar and a half."

We refuse and walk away again and as we are perhaps a rod of two away he will call us back and accept the dollar.

There is a much abbreviated description of the manner in which I bought a handsome article which prize highly and for which I paid full market price. The custom of selling girls leads to many evils. A girl may be sold by her father and she has no redress at all, but must submit and in some cases a number of girls form a suicide pact and when one of their number is sold against her will all will end their lives.

The city of Fochow has been enlarged five times. It was founded about the time of Christ and each time it was enlarged a wall was built about it and a moat dug on the outside and these serve as canals and are much used by the small boats which pass through them. A few weeks ago a great throng was standing on a bridge over one of them, when it suddenly gave way, killing and injuring a number of persons. Dr. Kinner's hospital was much in demand for the treatment of the wounded. As we passed by one of these canals we saw a woman with a basket on her arm and a sort of open basket on the end of a stick;
she was wading in water almost three feet deep and scraping the bottom of the canal in search of little shell fish for food and her success was quite meager.

The ordinary mud they dig up here serves passably for mortar and the coolies make a pile of it, pour water in the center and with their bare feet temper it for use. One day we secured a permit and visited the state assembly, or rather the provincial. It consists of one house and the proceedings were quite orderly.
The speaker of the house had little trouble in keeping order and holding the members to their texts and it was worth seeing and quite interesting as well. Back of the speaker's chair on the wall was a motto, "The Republic of China, two thousand years." There were a great many flags adorning the room and conspicuous among them was that of our own land, for there is a very good feeling just now in China toward the United States. After the session had ended we went down stairs to some of the committee rooms and were presented to the speaker and several of the members. They very politely invited us to lunch and we had a pleasant call. That day the news of the recognition of the new republic by our own country had been received by the consul, but by some strange oversight he had failed to notify the governor and assembly and Mr. Ewert had the pleasure of being the first one to tell the news and it quickly spread throughout the building and there was great rejoicing and formal jubilation next day.

Coffins are made here in a peculiar manner. Four thick slabs are taken and hollowed out with axes and dressed according to the wealth of the purchaser. The edges are then put together, making a box large enough for the body. The ends are closed by separate pieces and sometimes these are handsomely carved and are quite ornamental. The top piece is removed to receive the body and the funeral proceeds. Often a person will be too poor to secure a burial spot, as there are no regular cemeteries in the country, so they have rest houses, which are small stone structures and in them the coffins containing the bodies of poor people are placed till the friends are able to dispose of them in a better way.

A small octagonal building amid a cluster of graves told a sad story.
It was a depository for the dead bodies of infants whose people didn't or could not afford to bury them and they were thrown into these places and sad to say, too often babies not dead were put there to die that there might not be another mouth to feed.

This awful practice prevails to a greater or less extent throughout the country and it is shocking to the people who have been reared in Christian lands and regard children as the dearest treasures. On the other hand it is almost impossible for one who has not been on the ground to realize exact conditions here. Millions live every day on the ragged edge of starvation. There are few factories, no means of aid in a public way except to a very small extent, so that a person in need has small expectation of anything but starvation. Of course aid duty is not always shirked and children aid their parents more or less, but there are many who have no relatives to whom they may look for subsistence. Work is scarce and hard to get and poorly paid when secured.

Then too there are so few transportation facilities. People in a certain locality may suffer a failure of crops and may be many miles from a place where there is plenty. It would simply be impossible to get food to them in time no matter how kindly might be the disposition of those willing to aid. Rivers are navigable under great difficulties, there are scarcely any railroads, absolutely no roads for vehicles and no vehicles to use if there were roads, and so it is easy to see how hard it would be to aid in case of famine and why so many die of starvation and other causes. Then too a lack of proper conservation laws and customs has resulted in removal of much forest, so that the rivers are unmanageable and subject to floods, which do immense damage. Timber grows readily on the hills and mountains
if permitted to do so, but the hungry Chinaman must have a bit of wood to cook his rice; there is an abundance of coal in the ground, but no way to get it to him and so down come the small trees, greatly to the detriment of the land, and think of doing all the transportation on the backs of people.

Men and women laboriously climb down the mountains and hills with all the wood they can carry and it is tied into bundles, carried on board the little river boats and floated down to the cities and again on the backs of men and women borne to the market places to be bought and carried home. In this great district, containing several million people, I have not yet seen any vehicle whatever.
Everything is carried on the backs of coolies and the only way a person can travel on land is on his legs or in a chair carried by men. Occasionally a person of means manages to get hold of a pony which has been cast off by some one in the more important places and they ride through the narrow streets, a nuisance to everyone, putting on style in smart Aleck manner.

This is a gloomy picture and well illustrates the crying need of intelligence and progress. Things are improving under the new regime and the men at the head of affairs desire something better, but the improvement must be slow and missionaries must be the main source of leavening
the lump.

The extreme of this state of things is found among the Tartars or Man-chus, who were the aristocracy in the former regime. Being connected with the ruling powers they were pensioned when they failed to earn their living and so they fared well at the expense of the government, but when the dynasty was overthrown they were in a pitiable condition. Not used to work and at all times unable to get much, even if they were able, they suffered untold hardships. They are slowly adapting themselves to the changed condition, but the ordeal is fearful. They have a special part of the city in which they live and we visited it and saw scenes of wretchedness such as I hope not again to behold. Families living in a room with nothing of the comforts of life, dirt floor, no beds and hardly enough clothing to cover them. Everything that could be sold for food had been disposed of and everything loose about the place had been used for fuel to cook the meager morsel obtained.

Old people hanged themselves or otherwise put an end to their wretched existence, while fathers sold their children into slavery and husbands in like manner disposed of their wives. Into this part of the city two brave missionary women have gone, Misses Wiley and Deahl, and while teaching in the schools and college of the missionary enterprise they devote their afternoons to the work they have undertaken. They have schools for the children and carry on a factory where a great amount of weaving is done. A very good quality of cloth is made by them and various goods, such as are possible. The looms are crude and the work is slow but by ten many are kept from starvation or a life of slavery.

One day a woman came with a baby a month old. She had escaped from her husband, who was going to sell her into slavery and they gave her a refuge and she is there yet. Several other women heard of it and came begging to be delivered from sale and we saw all of them, bright and happy in their work.

We saw two girls who had been rescued from slavery and kept in the school for 50 cents a month, and so on. Pages could be filled with the pathetic tales of sorrow and want, of misery and trouble, but I have told enough for this time.

There is considerable work grading and building in the mission compound and premises and every effort is made to give work to the men who would otherwise be in want and every day I am able to look on men, once the members of the upper class in society, now glad of any kind of manual labor, even the worst drudgery, in order to secure enough for bare subsistence for themselves and families. The pictures I have seen certainly bear unanswerable evidence of the practical good missions. The business talents of the noble men and women here would command larger salaries at home, but they give all to the work.

The overseer of the weaving establishment is a peculiarly interesting character. In his early childhood he had been abandoned and was well nigh at the point of starvation and death when a kind hearted native woman rescued him from dying and took him home and gave him the best nursing she could. He showed unusual ability and has now turned the tables. For some fourteen years the good woman who took him in has been blind and he tenderly cares for her. He is a fine looking man and very interesting. One morning while we were all at breakfast he called to see me before I would get away from the house and through Miss Wiley we had quite a conversation and a pleasant visit. He had many questions to ask about my

FROM FOREIGN CAPITALS. (By Associated Press.)

Madrid. — The Infante Don Jaime, second son of the king and queen of Spain, now five years old, was born deaf and dumb.

For a long time no one outside the palace knew of the prince's infirmity and there it was scarcely mentioned except in whispers. The late premier, Senor Canalejas, announced two years ago that the little prince had a form of tuberculosis, which prevented him from hearing or talking. His lack of hearing was proven by making a loud noise suddenly near the boy. He did not move. Although three years of age at that time he had never uttered a sound, and already had the fixed look and strange behavior characteristic of the deaf and dumb. Spanish specialists adjudged him incurable. One of them performed a difficult operation without beneficial result. The child was sent to the sanatorium of a celebrated physician in Switzerland, but he returned in the same condition as before.

Don Jaime at present is under the care of Valencian nuns, whose mission in life is to educate the deaf and dumb. The name of Miss Helen Keller has been mentioned in the palace, but nothing definite has been arranged about asking her to undertake the teaching of the boy. One difficulty is that Miss Keller, who does not know Spanish, would have to teach in a foreign language.

London. — It was natural after William Fife had thrice failed to turn out a boat speedy enough to win the America's cup for him, that Sir Thomas Lipton should entrust the designing of his fourth challenger to another man. But it is no secret that Fife was much chagrined at not receiving the commission, and the selection of Charles E. Nicholson for the job has intensified the rivalry between the two designers.

This year each of them has turned out a new yacht for the 15 metre class. These boats are built in accordance with international rules and will race this year in home waters. Their water line length averages about 66 feet. They met the other day for the first time this season in a race organized by the Essex Yacht club, a sporting little club, with its home in the old American schooner gypsy, which is hailed up on the shore at Leigh-on-Sea. The interest shown in the contest was accentuated by the fact that Fife himself steered the Maudrey, the boat which he had designed, and Nicholson handled his latest creation, the Pamela. Thus it was a contest both of seamanship and design between the two rivals.

The result was a victory for Nicholson on both points, for the Pamela not only proved herself the speedier of the two, but was the better handled. It is safe to say that Nicholson's triumph was very gratifying to Sir Thomas Lipton.

Of course a first race between two new yachts can seldom be regarded as conclusively settling their respective merits, because, as all yachtsmen know, it usually requires much sailing to tune a boat up so as to develop her highest capabilities of speed and future races between these two boats will be watched with much interest on this side. But for the present Nicholson is entitled to do some crowing, which, by the way, he never does, for he is one of the most modest of men.

MINNESOTA LABOR FEDERATION

St. Cloud, Minn., June 16.—Representatives of the various trades unions throughout Minnesota, and in large numbers, were assembled in this city today when the thirty-first annual convention of the State Federation of Labor was called to order by President E. G. Hall. The convention is expected to continue through the week. The annual reports presented at the initial session showed gratifying progress made by the federation during the past year, especially in the direction of obtaining legislation favoring the interests of labor.

It is true that women more frequently suffer from kidney trouble than men. It is also true they suffer more intensely, owing to their more sensitive organism. Katherine L. Norton, New Bedford, Mass., says: "I had a terrible pain across my back, with a burning and scalding feeling. I took Foley Kidney Pills as advised, with results certain and sure. The pain and burning feeling left me. I felt toned up and invigorated. I am glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." They are tonic in action, quick in results. J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

TO DECIDE FATE OF SULZER MEASURE

Albany, N. Y., June 16.—Called together by Governor Sulzer to take action on a direct nomination bill, the members of the New York legislature assembled in extraordinary session today. Since he issued the call for the session five weeks ago Governor Sulzer has stumped the entire state in behalf of the measure which he tried to unsuccessfully to get through at the regular session. He now professes to feel certain of victory at the extra session. This optimism, however, is not shared by some of the governor's friends. In order to get his bill through the governor must convert eighteen senators and twenty-eight assemblymen, who already have gone on record as against his plan.

710 Chestnut Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Subscriptions received by F. G. Farrell & Co., Jacksonville, Ill.

THE Illinois Steel Bridge Company builds bridges and fabricates steel for structural purposes. It has operated successfully under the able and experienced management of the present officers for a period of twelve years; during which time over 5,000 bridges have been sold to counties, townships and districts. During the first four months of the present year an increase of 40% in orders received is shown over the same period last year.

These notes are secured by a first mortgage on all the assets of the company, both personal and real, now owned or hereafter acquired, comprising real estate, buildings, equipment, raw material, finished product, accounts receivable, bills receivable and cash, representing a total investment of over $350,000.

The earnings for the past four years, as certified to by certified public accountants, have been $121,216.14, or an average per annum of $30,304.03, over six times the interest charge, or sufficient to pay the principal and interest in about three years.

The Title Guaranty Trust Company has examined the title to the real estate and guarantees that the deed of trust securing this issue is a first mortgage on the property without prior liens or encumbrances of any kind.

All legal matters in connection with this issue have been approved by our counsel, Henry W. Allen and Bellanti, Barnes & Bellanti, Jacksonville, Illinois, attorneys for the company.

STOCK MARKET LACKS RESILIENCY

OPINIONS DIFFER REGARDING BUOYANT UPTURN OF MARKET.

Course of Trading Does Not Clear up Whether Action Was Due to Reaction or Whether it Herald Returning Confidence.

(By Associated Press)
New York, June 16.—In spite of the resolute advance of stocks late last week and the evidences of increased buying power the market today showed none of its recent resiliency. There was some difference of opinion, which the course of the trading did not entirely clear up, whether the buoyant upturn was merely a temporary reaction from the acute depression which preceded it, brought about largely by an over-sold condition, or whether it heralded returning confidence and a betterment in fundamental conditions.

On the assumption that the rise would proceed further bull traders bid up the list in early trading, but it was evident that outside buying had diminished and that the market was receiving support aside from that given by the professional element. Short selling was resumed and the market turned downward.

The decline was accelerated by the interpretation by the street upon the supreme court's decisions in several rate cases, the most important of which—the Missouri case—followed closely the lines of the Minnesota case. With the decisions against the railroads in a majority of cases traders attacked the railroad list and succeeded in forcing material recessions.

Union Pacific was under pressure and selling apparently was influenced by gossip to the effect that the attorney general would oppose any plan for dissolution of the Harriman system which did not dispose of Central Pacific. Canadian Pacific was weak.

TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Jacksonville.

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Jacksonville woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. Eva Martin, 902 Hackett avenue, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills for several years and I know them to be a good, reliable remedy. When I have a pain in my back and my kidneys do not act regularly, I get Doan's Kidney Pills at Armstrong's Drug Store. They bring me great relief and I have no hesitation in saying so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WEST VIRGINIA TO CELEBRATE

Wheeling, W. Va., June 16.—At daybreak this morning, amid the reverberating boom of cannon, the shrieks of steam whistles and the clanging of bells, the semi-centennial celebration of West Virginia's statehood was ushered in. The early arriving visitors found the city aglow with color. Some idea of the extent and lavishness of the decorations may be gained from the fact that since the work of adorning the city began during the latter days of last week ten car loads of flags and bunting have been sold by the merchants. The principal event of the program today was the opening of an elaborate exhibition of the manufactured and other products of the state.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM

George W. Korn, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detol's Relief for Rheumatism has been a wonderful benefit to my wife. She could not lift her foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist.

BICYCLE RIDERS ATTENTION.

Section 14 of our city ordinance says: "No person shall ride any bicycle on any sidewalk in said city, adjacent to any paved street; and every person violating this section shall be fined not less than five nor more than ten dollars for every offense."

The police department has had numerous complaints about this matter and the officers have been instructed to arrest every one caught violating this ordinance.
Geo. P. Davis,
Chief Police.

A HOTEL CHANCE.

The Illinois hotel at the northwest corner of the square is a comparatively new building and the furnishings which the management has used are in excellent condition. Mr. Graubner has determined to go to Denver and for that reason the hotel is for lease and the furnishings for sale. A splendid chance is afforded anyone who desires to go into the hotel business. If interested see John Viera about a lease and Gus Graubner about the furnishings. Anyone who so desires can inspect the building and furnishings and can purchase the latter under invoice if desired. If not sold before Monday, June 23, at 2 p. m., the furnishings will be offered at auction at that time.

TO WELCOME AMERICAN ENGINEERS

Berlin, June 16.—The German Association of Engineers has completed elaborate arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers during their approaching visit to Germany. The American visitors are due to arrive at Hamburg next Thursday. Two days later they will go to Leipzig to hold their annual meeting. Following the meeting the visitors will make a two weeks' tour of Germany that will embrace many of the principal industrial cities and districts.

As Mr. Casterline claims he had not heard from Fry as to whether he would take the stand he concluded he (Fry) did not want it, so a day or two ago rented it to another party for $8.00. When the two men met Sunday, Casterline claims Fry attacked him. Casterline went before Squire Coons where he swore out a warrant, both city and state against Fry, Chief Davis, serving the papers. ### NINE CHURCHES OPPOSE PERPETUAL LICENSING OF SALOONS

Vote Taken Sunday Morning Showed Unanimous Disapproval of House Bill 501—Many Will Write Letters to Legislators.

A decided protest was recorded Sunday morning against the perpetual licensing of saloons by municipalities. The question was put in nine churches of the city as to whether the members favored the passage of bill No. 501 now before the house of representatives. The opposition was unanimous. The churches voting were State Street, Grace, Centenary and Brooklyn Methodist, Central Christian, Westminster, the First Baptist, Northminster and the Congregational. Besides voting against the bill as members of the congregation, many of the people of Centenary church agreed to write personal letters to the legislators of this district. The question was put to the members in the form of a set of resolutions, copies of which have been sent to Representatives Lyon, Morris and Bell and to the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League in Chicago.

The Resolution.

The resolutions adopted follow: "Whereas, There has passed first and second reading and will be up for final vote in the house, a bill known as senate bill No. 501 which gives power to city councils to grant saloon licenses for any number of years; and to make such licenses transferable and to fix the amount of the license fee at any amount below the present limit of $500; and "Whereas, Such a law would make possible the granting of a vested property right to a saloon license for one, ten or fifty years, including the right to sell or transfer the same, and thus creates a privilege which would at once become worth many times the amount of the original license fee, conferring rights which would involve the cities in heavy damages in case they choose to abolish saloons; and

"Whereas, There is a desperate effort on the part of liquor interests to secure the passage of this bill in the house this week, and enormous pressure is being made to that end; therefore

"Resolved, That we protest against the passage of said senate bill No. 501, and call upon all reputable members of the legislature to vote against the same; also

"Resolved, That we invoke the active efforts of all church members against this iniquitous bill and urge them to make known their opposition in a way that will be felt."

An Interesting Demonstration

The demonstration of Joseph Burnett & Co. extracts and fruit colorings began at this store yesterday and notwithstanding the hot weather a large number of ladies visited the store and listened with interest to the facts made clear by Mrs. S. Millen and saw the dainty example of what can be done with the Burnett products. Visitors were enthusiastic about the arrangements we had made for their comfort and convenience and we are naturally expecting an increased attendance each day.

Mrs. S. Millen has made arrangements for a special demonstration to begin Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock for members of the Domestic Science Round Table but other ladies will be welcome.

Many a dessert is spoiled because of the quality of the flavoring used. Did the favoring been pure and high class the dessert would have been delicious instead of insipid or unpleasant to the taste. Burnett's represents the best that is made in this line and we would like the chance to tell you about them any day this week. Mrs. Millen gives a very interesting demonstration and has a number of choice recipes for distribution.
